

Free Student Financial Wellness for COVID-19

Dear University,

During challenging times such as these, making healthy financial decisions is of the utmost importance, which is why we at iGrad are here to lend a hand. Our team would like to help your students by giving them a place where they can get answers to financial related issues that may be arising at this time. We are offering a sample of resources on our financial wellness platform for free that your students can access immediately. Each resource has been selected based on specific challenges students may be facing during the COVID-19 pandemic. This is a time where we need to work together and we hope that these resources will help relieve students' stress and keep them on track towards financial success.

From Rob LaBreche, CEO

Featured Resources Include:

How to Reduce Student Loan Payments in Times of Crisis

Graduating and Job-Hunting In the Midst of COVID-19

How the Government is Helping With Student Loans in Response to COVID-19

Minimalist Living and Sensible Spending

How to Create a Payment Triage Strategy That's Mindful of Your Credit

Tell your students to visit
<https://covid19.igrad.com>
to access now

Updates made daily, and resources available for free

For questions contact us at busdedv@igrad.com or 888-844-1525